

Hafjell is an ideal ski destination for families and beginner skiers, only a two-hour transfer from Oslo. It has 50km of slopes to enjoy, most of which are suitable for beginners and intermediate skiers. It has a peaceful atmosphere and the slopes are uncrowded throughout the season. This scenic Norwegian ski resort has incredible mountain views on and off the slopes. There are also great off-slope activities such as horse-sleigh rides, a troll museum and a day trip to Lillehammer.

Top Runs

- For beginners, there is 33km of easy green and blue runs in the area. Piste 1 is a gentle green that leads to the Hafjell 360 chairlift.
- Intermediates will enjoy the long sweeping 42 red run, which leads to the Skogheisen T Bar lift.
- More advanced skiers can head to the black run 60. A ski run that has been used by top ski racers.
- There's also 300km of cross-country skiing to enjoy in the area, which has routes suitable for different levels.
