

St. Christoph, a small hamlet in the Arlberg ski region of Austria, is luxurious and exclusive. Popular with families due to its peaceful atmosphere, the ski resort has a rustic nature. Sharing the ski region with its larger sister, St. Anton, St. Christoph is perfect for those looking for great skiing without the bustle of crowds. Located near the top of the Arlberg pass, the ski resort has good snow reliability, with its lower slopes particularly suited to beginners. For more advanced and experienced skiers, there is the option to explore more challenging runs in St. Anton as well as Stuben thanks to the great links in the ski region.

Top Runs

- Fasch – This blue run is short but meanders quite a bit. There is also a scenic tree-lined section that includes embankments for anyone daring enough to jump.
- Rendl Talabfahrt – This long red run boasts a variety of terrain and scenery, from narrow and wide sections to areas of freestyle skiing.
- Mattunjoch – An off-piste route, this is one for those more experienced skiers looking for a daring challenge. The run takes you over cliffs and through challenging terrain.
